How To Register

To find out more about PatientSite, discuss it with your clinician, or visit patientsite.org and click on "New User" to register.

A free website where you can manage your health care any time of day or night, whether it's from a smartphone, tablet or home computer.

Beth Israel Deaconess has been perfecting this since being among the first in the nation to offer patients a secure, confidential website for viewing their medical records and emailing their clinicians' offices.

Today, PatientSite offers much more. An ever-growing number of BIDMC clinicians and patients are using it. Learn why.

OpenNotes

We are pleased to announce that in 2013, many Beth Israel Deaconess patients on PatientSite will be invited to read the health care notes their doctors, nurses and other clinicians write after an appointment or discussion. We call this OpenNotes (click here to learn more). We are adding more and more specialties. Click here to see who is sharing notes.

You're invited to read your notes on PatientSite!

OpenNotes

OpenNotes gives you online access to health care notes your doctors, nurses and other clinicians write after an appointment or discussion. Notes may summarize what was discussed, the findings, what was measured and the treatment plan.

Reading notes can help you remember what you and your clinician talked about and prepare for your next visit. Patients in an OpenNotes research study reported that reading notes helped them better understand their health, take medications as prescribed and feel more in control of their care.

Beth Israel Deaconess is among the first in the country to share notes in this way.
